

PRE-DRILLED IMAGE SENSOR PACKAGE FABRICATION METHOD Thomas P. Glenn Steven Webster Roy Dale Hollaway

5 ABSTRACT

10

A central aperture is formed in a substrate. Traces are formed on a lower surface of the substrate, the traces having tabs protecting beyond a sidewall of the central aperture. An image sensor is supported in the central aperture by the tabs. By mounting the image sensor in the central aperture, the resulting image sensor package is relatively thin.